Taking Up Space: Women’s Connection Stories

Greetings, fellow Artists,

Please join our group installation that will be installed as a window show case piece through the duration of the “Taking Up Space: Women’s Connection Stories” show through Women’s History month, March 2026.

We are very excited about this installation and the connotations it entails. This collective of individual narratives comes together to represent what a vibrant and creative female community looks like. Showcasing that reflection, provocative thought, and how the individual’s own interpersonal relationships help to build connections that weave a stronger more diverse community.

Details:

This wrapped rope installation will be made up of individual lengths of hanging rope that have been cut to varied lengths measuring from 6’-4.5’, and will be wrapped according to each Artist with whatever varying materials they find suitable to completely cover the length of rope by wrapping to fit each 1’ section to represent a women in their lives that they will describe with an adjective that they link to a color and texture. This is then matched to the corresponding material used to wrap a 1’ section to represent this particular woman. Artists may use whatever materials are available to them. Embroidery floss, twine, plastic, foil, beads, clay, etc. So, for example, a 4’ piece of rope would represent 4 women in 4 differently wrapped sections by 4 different colors and textures.

Once completed, all individually wrapped rope sections will be hung collectively in front gallery window as installation showcase piece. Each Artist will be provided with one length of rope. The Artist is responsible for all the materials for wrapping 1’ sections on length of rope provided. Please return completely wrapped rope by Call for Art Entry Deadline, Feb. 24, 2026, with Artist’s name attached to rope length. Ropes will not be for sale. Installation will be up for the duration of the show “Taking Up Space: Women’s Connection Stories” that will run from Feb. 26th-March 31st, 2026.
